

A tradition of innovation

FISCHER AUTOMATION is a second generation family-run business – and the third is already in training.

Our customers in Europe, North America, and Asia want solutions that will enable them to „Sew perfectly – automatically.” And those solutions are precisely what we develop and invest in – including in the training of young employees. No matter how complex or tricky the task, our team will build a suitable machine for it. That's what we're known for.

Our customers also value FISCHER service when it comes to consulting, training and instruction, supervision and support, and maintenance contracts.
